Judging Guidelines

- The 2018 academic school year competition will be judged on classical piano only.
- Applicants for the 2018 scholarship award must submit all required materials by the established deadline, Wednesday, October 31, 2018.
- Applicants who do not submit all required materials by the established deadline will be excluded from consideration.
- Recordings of poor sound quality will be disqualified.
- Three finalists will be selected and their performances evaluated by an independent panel of judges.
- Judges retain the right for their decisions to be based on one of the following options:
 - a. In-person performance by each finalist at a closed, private portion of the competition;
 - b. Recorded performance of each finalist that was submitted at the preliminary stage of the competition (in unusual situations).
- Each finalist must supply his or her own accompanist for the closed, private audition performance.
- Judges retain the right to make no award in a given year.
- The decisions of the judges will be final.
